An Illustrated History of the People and Towns of Northeast Shelby County and South Central Tipton County – Salem, Portersville, Idaville, Kerrville, Armourtown, Bethel, Tipton, Mudville, Macedonia, Gratitude, Barretville, and Rosemark, Tennessee

More than nine years in research, writing, and production, this book contains 608 pages including 883 photographs, maps, and illustrations. The book begins with a brief sketch of the pre-history of the area and, through of series of articles and interviews, tells in detail the story of the people, enterprises and churches of the area. Each community also has a detailed locational map allowing the reader to actually visit precise locations discussed. Hundreds of vignettes give a sense of life from the 1830s through the 1950s.

Standard hard back copies with dust cover are $65.00 including tax. Orders will be filled in the order in which payment is received. Because of the expense of such an undertaking, only a limited number of books have been produced. Once all of the production run is sold, it is not anticipated that additional books will be printed.

Also available to complement An Illustrated History is a CD containing a unique map collection, 27 Historic Maps – Tennessee, Shelby and Tipton Counties – 1796 to 1954, and a CD of Historic Cemeteries containing the census of the cemeteries referenced in the book.

All proceeds from the sale of books and CDs go to pay the actual cost of production. Your check should be made payable to Historic Archives of Rosemark & Environs, Inc. (HARE, Inc.), a 501(c)(3) corporation established to publish this illustrated history. Officers and directors of HARE, Inc. receive no compensation. HARE, Inc. also catalogs and preserves photographs of historic interest for Northeast Shelby County and South Central Tipton County, and serves as an archive for local familial archival materials and items of historic interest. HARE also maintains a collection of oral history tape recordings. HARE is dedicated to preserving local history and making that information available not only through this publication, but also through internet access, and to maintaining local historical files and artifacts. HARE is formed exclusively for literary and educational purposes. If you are interested in supporting this work, you may add to your book purchase price a tax deductible gift to help in this important historic preservation effort. Your gifts, bequests, or transfers to HARE will promote and preserve for future generations the heritage of Northeast Shelby County and South Central Tipton County.
